Battle of Fort Caspar As Seen by Eye-Witness Told

Martin Smith, 93 years old, and an early settler in this section before there was any thought of a city of Casper, came in to the Tribune-Herald office Friday, to tell a story about Fort Caspar. The celebration of Caspar Collins Day at old Fort Caspar on Saturday reminded him of the story of the battle of Fort Caspar as told to him by an eye-witness, in about 1903.

Mr. Smith, in the livery stable business in Glenrock in the early 1900's, was hired by a salesman to drive him through the country to call on his customers, there being no train service to most towns. Casper was the terminus of the C. and N.W. in those days. It was while on this trip that he met the eyewitness to the Battle of Fort Caspar who told him the story as he remembered it.

The man who told him the tale, was a French Canadian, living on Twin Creeks, about 12 miles Southeast of Lander; he is not now able to recall his name, but remembers it as something like De Muir.

This man was by trade a bridge builder, and had built bridges at several places along the Platte, at Fort Fetterman and several other locations. He was in the process of building a bridge at Platte Crossing (later Fort Caspar) at the time of the battle with the large horde of Arapaho, Cheyenne and Sioux Indians.

Mr. Smith's story follows, quoting the French-Canadian.

"He said that the Indians came over a little hill shooting arrows into the fort. The commanding officer asked for volunteers to drive the Indians away. Nineteen soldiers volunteered for this detail, and the young officer, Lt. Caspar Collins made the twentieth man to volunteer. He was a visitor at the little frontier outpost, having stopped off enroute to visit his uncle, the commanding officer at Fort Steele.

"The commanding officer advised against his going with the party, saying that it was hard to tell what might happen. Lt. Collins insisted however, saying that he had never seen an Indian scrap, and would like the experience. So the commanding officer allowed him to lead the sortie against the Indians who were riding toward the fort and shooting arrows.

The man who told Mr. Smith this story, said that he stood on top of one of the cabins of the fort and watched the battle, which lasted only a little while; the soldiers were so much outnumbered that soon they were all killed. He said that when the soldiers reached the band of Indians who had ridden toward the fort, who turned and rode up a little rise in ground, hundreds of Indians swept down on them from both sides, and killed them all.

Asked if the man had made any particular reference to the death of Collins, Mr. Smith did not remember that he had told anything about that, just that "they were all killed."

The eyewitness told Smith that the commanding officer sent out a detail after the Indians had left, to bring in the bodies and that one was filled so full of arrows that they held the body up off the ground when it was laid down.

Asked about the nearby Custard Wagon Train massacre, Mr. Smith said the man did not mention it.

Some accounts say that this tragedy could be seen from the fort; many disagree. This story seems to bear out the fact that it could not be seen from the fort, because it is logical to believe that the man telling the story would have mentioned that episode also, if he could have seen it at the time he also watched the Battle of Fort Caspar.

Two brothers came to Wyoming in 1885 from Iowa, Martin Smith and his brother Charles Smith, who is now 95 and lives in Savage, Mont. Mr. Smith recalls many interesting events of the early days, and was often at Fort Fetterman, and Deer Creek Station at Glenrock. He knew most of the early settlers of this section in that day; also he knew many who were involved in the Johnson County Invasion.

He and his brother were the first settlers in Boxelder Park, and they had many warnings from the stockmen to leave the country, but they refused to be frightened away from their holdings. He spoke of the many settlers driven out by the stockmen who were determined to keep the range for themselves and their large herds.

Mr. Smith said he had been all over this section, before the city of Casper was dreamed of. He came to Casper from Glenrock to make his home, about 1940, living then at the CY ranch, where his son was foreman for Carey. He now lives with his daughter Mrs. Minnie Moffett, at 113 South Lincoln.

Final Rites For Charles Smith

Final rites for Charles Smith, 99, were held at 2:00 p.m. Wednesday, June 10, in Savage Congregational Church. The Rev. Bernard McLain, Pastor, officiated, and the Cloyd-Gorder Mortuary directed arrangements. Mr. Smith died at Community June 1, 7959 of infirmities of age. He had been ill for about a month, but was a hospital patient for only three days.

He was born at Iowa City, Iowa, June 20, 1859, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Smith, and grew up in that area. His marriage to Laura Belle Lininger, took place at Mt. Ayer, Iowa, March 10, 1881. Soon after, they moved to Brighton, Iowa, where he operated a flour mill in partnership with his father in law. In 1885 they went to Bob Elder, Wyo. and filed on a homestead, remaining there for 15 years before returning to Iowa. In 1908 they went to Hillrose, Colorado, where he farmed and ran a general store. After his retirement in 1932, they came to Savage, where Mrs. Smith died in 1934. Since her death, he has lived at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Andrew Rasmussen, northeast of Savage.

He is survived by three children, Mrs. Hallie Bailey, Arkon, Colo., Mrs. Goldie Rasmussen and Frank Smith, both of Savage; two sisters Mrs. Nora Huss, Shelton, Washington, and Mrs. Stella Reed, Idaho; 12 grandchildren, 30 great grandchildren and 18 great great grandchildren.

At the services Mrs. Allen Darnell was organist, and accompanist for Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brown, who sang two duets.

Pallbearers were Ted Hamburg, Fred Hamburg, Oscar Crumpacker, Charles Nelson, Allen Darnell, and Robert Seeve. Interment was in the Glendive Cemetery.

Henry Wife, So In Plane

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chesbro, Idaho Falls residents, were in a four-place plane which crashed 10 miles west of Susanville, Calif., this morning.

Mr. Chesbro, owner of the largest in the intermountain west, was identified with many public enterprises in the city. Mr. Chesbro was 50; she was 43.

Reports received by friends and relatives indicated they have been visiting in California and were enroute to Idaho Falls when their plane crashed. Official word of the tragedy was received by Roy Johnson, an associate at the Chesbro Music Company, from Susanville authorities.

Henry Chesbro

Mrs. Chesbro

Saw Plane Crash

The Post-Register was informed in a telephone call to Susanville, Calif., by the California Highway Patrol that at least three persons on a ranch saw the plane crash, apparently from motor trouble. They said the plane dived downward at about 9:45 a. m., Friday scattering wreckage for some distance but it did not burn. The three were instantly killed.

The four place ship which Chesbro purchased only 60 days ago was seen by Mrs. Anna Hathaba, owner of the ranch where the plane crashed; her son, and a hired man, said the California authorities.

Heading the investigation is Sgt. Edward J. Padilla, of the California Highway Patrol, said Miss Shirley Steiger, highway patrol clerk stationed at Susanville.

Susanville, a city of 6,000, is located in northern California, not far from the Nevada line. It is about 80 miles northwest of Reno and about 300 miles northeast of San Francisco. Susanville is county seat of Lassen County.

Weather Cloudy

Miss Steiger said the weather was cloudy, but there was no wind or other unfavorable flying conditions.

Richard Geiser, chief of the Idaho Falls CAA, said he received word of the crash at 12:40 p. m., and a flight plan indicated the Chesbros expected to reach Idaho Falls at 2:15 p. m. Chesbro had been licensed as a pilot since 1941 and was well versed in flying, said Geiser.

Mr. and Mrs. Chesbro had recently completed a flying trip of a month in the south and east, returning to Idaho Falls a week ago.

They then left for California only last Friday to visit Mrs. Chesbro's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas-Ellis, Eureka, Calif., a daughter, Joan, who is employed at San Francisco, and his mother, Mrs. Horace (Ella) Chesbro, Oakland. Paul, a student at the University of Colorado at Boulder, had driven to San Francisco to leave a car with his sister, then met his parents for the airplane trip home.

Chesbro was a member of Rotary Club, Elks Lodge and the Chamber of Commerce. He had served in various capacities in the Rotary Club and was active in the Idaho Falls Retail Merchant Council. An ardent sportsman, he was also enthusiastic about flying.

Long Time Residents

He was born in Seattle, Wash., June 21, 1902, but moved with his family to Idaho Falls more than 30 years ago where his father, Horace Chesbro, established the Chesbro Music Company. Since the retirement of the elder Chesbro several years ago, Henry has operated the business.

His wife, who was born Mary Jane Ellis, June 10, 1910, was active in the business with her husband.

Young Paul had just completed his second year at the University of Colorado. He was born in Idaho Falls.

They were members of the Trinity Methodist Church.

Reed, also residing in Idaho Falls. She was married to Powell Fullerton on March 21, 1917. Those left to mourn her loss are her father and mother, her husband and two sons, David Powell, age 6 years and Wayne Leroy, age 5 years; one sister Louise and one brother Charles, one brother and one sister having preceded her to the great Beyond.

She resided with her parents at her home east of Lenox until the year of 1914, when the family moved to the state of Idaho. She was loved by all who knew her. Her death was a great shock to her many friends in Idaho, as well as her many friends and relatives in Iowa.

She united with the Methodist church of Lenox, Iowa, in the year 1912 and later when the family moved to Idaho Falls, Idaho, her membership was transferred to the church at that place.

The funeral services were held at the First Presbyterian church of Lenox, Iowa, and conducted by the pastor of that church owing to another service which was being held at the Methodist church at the same hour.

BURIED IN FAIRVIEW CEMETERY

David N. Reed, sixteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Reed, died at the family home in Idaho Falls, Idaho, on August 17. Mr. and Mrs. Reed have a daughter, Mrs. Fullerton, seriously ill at the family home. Yesterday was the birthday anniversary of an older daughter, who died about three years ago.

The home is therefore particularly sad and the family is being extended sympathy of its many friends.

OBITUARY

Mabel Fern, eldest daughter of David B. and Stella Reed, was born in Taylor county, Iowa, August 17th, 1896, and died at the Unity Hospital in Creston, Iowa, Sunday, Feb. 16, 1913, age 16 years 5 months and 29 days.

Mabel was a girl of lovable disposition who made friends wherever she went. She was a loving daughter and an inspiration to her younger brothers and sisters. She early gave her heart to Christ and was a faithful member of the Methodist church and Sunday school.

Her Christian character was shown by the cheerful disposition with which she endured physical pain by her desire to make the pain of parting easier for parents, sisters and brothers, and by her sublime faith in the will of the of the Lord, when she said with almost her last words, "Don't worry, if God wishes that I shall die it is His will and I am prepared"

With a whispered prayer on her lips she peacefully closed her eyes and her spirit ascended to God who gave it.

A large congregation of friends and neighbors assembled at the Methodist church, in Lenox, on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 18th, at 2 o'clock where services were conducted by the pastor. Interment was made in the Lenox Cemetery.

DAVID N. REED

David Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Reed was born in Taylor county, Iowa, August 29, 1901, and died at his home in Idaho, Friday morning, August 17, 1917, aged 15 years, 11 months and 19 days. He leaves to mourn his death, his father, his mother, two sisters, Pearl and Louise, and one brother, Charley. His oldest sister departed this life four years ago.

A Sure Remedy for Scarlet Fever and Small-Pox

(Bedford Times-Republican)

"A correspondent of the St. Louis Times gives the following advice and remedy for the cure of the above diseases. We publish it, and leave the public to judge for themselves as to its merits. He writes:

"Now that the scarlet fever and small-pox are prevailing in the city to quite an extent, with fatal result, I herewith append a recipe, which has been used, to my knowledge, in hundreds of cases. It will prevent or cure the small-pox, though the pittings are filling. When Jenner discovered cow-pox in England, the world of science hurled an avalanche of fame upon his head. But when the most scientific school of medicine in the world—that of Paris—published this recipe as a panacea for small-pox, it passed unheeded. It is as unfeeling as fate, and conquers in every instance. It is harmless when taken by a well person. It will also cure scarlet fever; here it is as I have used it to cure the small-pox. When learned physicians said the patient must die, it cured.

Sulphate of zinc one grain; Foxglove (digitalis) one grain; sugar, one-half teaspoonful. Mix with two table-spoonfuls of water. When thoroughly mixed add four ounces of water. Take a spoonful every hour. Either disease will disappear in twelve hours. For a child, smaller doses, according to age.

"If counties would compel their physicians to use this, there would be no need of pest houses. If you value advice and experience, use this for those terrible diseases."—Taylor County Republican, Feb., 1877.

way of life as taught in these golden chapters of Matthew—known as the "Sermon on the Mount".

Righteousness and joy and peace in our hearts must be what Jesus meant when he said, "The kingdom of God is within you." (Luke 17:21)

Have we sought and received the benefits of the Kingdom?

The baby, a boy, was delivered in a 35-minute caesarean operation Sunday. The infant was said to be well-formed and today both the child and his mother were reported to be in excellent condition. The caesarean was performed by Dr. Gerardo Lozada and Dr. Alejandro Busalleu and among the 60 spectators was a commission of physicians preparing a report on the amazing case of precocious motherhood. The child mother, Lina Medina, was born Sept. 23, 1934, according to her parents, and that is the date of her birth certificate. But Dr. Hipolito Larrabure, chief surgeon and director of the Lima maternity hospital, said the birth certificate apparently was in error because Lina still has her milk teeth and the molars are just emerging—the dental status of a child more than five but under six. Dr. Larrabure believed this calculation was more reliable than the birth certificate which would make her four years, seven months and three weeks old. After the birth Dr. Larrabure recounted the history of the case. The girl is one of the children of an Indian farming family, living near Pisco, a cotton port south of Lima. A few weeks ago her mother brought her into the hospital at Pisco for examination, believing the child had an abdominal tumor, Dr. Lozada found her to be pregnant. "Lozada had the surprise of his life when he found Lina was in an advanced state of pregnancy," Dr. Larrabure said. He said it had been impossible to determine who had assaulted the little girl. The mother reported that Lina started to menstruate when she was only three months old, continuing regularly until August, 1938. Told that the child was pregnant, the mother voiced Indian superstitions. Gynecologists feared that natural delivery of the baby would be dangerous, if not impossible, for the little girl and so decided to operate after eight and one-half months of pregnancy. The mother is just under 37 inches in height. She weighs 70 pounds. The baby weighed almost six pounds.

FARMER TAKES LIFE WITH GUN

John Arbogast Shoots Self on 40-Acre Tract Near
Idaho Falls

John Arbogast, 52, committed suicide on his farm about two miles northwest of Idaho Falls late Saturday, Harry Meppen, Bonneville county sheriff, reported Sunday.

In a note addressed to his sister, Mrs. J. W. Cunningham of Alton, Ill., Mr. Arbogast said he was taking his own life because "everything I do is wrong." He left his entire property, including the 40-acre tract on which he lived and $700 in an Idaho Falls bank, to Mrs. Cunningham.

"I know you will need this money immediately, because you haven't any funds for my funeral services," the note read. "Please forgive me."

Investigate Shooting

Sheriff Meppen and Guy Simpson, deputy sheriff, who investigated the shooting, said the farmer shot himself through the head with a shotgun.

The tragedy was discovered by a neighboring farm boy, who entered the victim's farm house to learn why he had not cultivated Saturday afternoon, as he reported he would do during a discussion Saturday morning.

Mr. Arbogast lived alone. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Arbogast, are residents of Jerseyville, Ill.

No Inquest

Deputy Sheriff Simpson said no inquest would be held.

Mr. Arbogast moved to this district about 26 years ago, enlisting in the army here.

The body was removed to McHan's funeral home.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday under direction of the American Legion, according to Sheriff Meppen, after which the body will be shipped to Jerseyville, Ill., for burial.

Deposition Offered

The deposition of Harvey Mulberry, taken at his bedside in the L. D. S. hospital, was offered in testimony before the jury. The deposition, taken by Fred Porter, Bonneville county coroner at 10:30 p. m., Monday, March 28, was as follows:

Harvey Mulberry, under his oath, made the following statements which were taken by Ruth E. Palmer, R. N., under oath to transcribe same:

Q. Were you on the highway March 26, 1938?

A. Yes, on the Yellowstone highway.

Q. What time?

A. About 7:30 p. m.

Q. About what time?

A. About 7:30 p. m., Saturday night.

Q. Did you see any cars parked on the highway?

A. No, I did not. I saw a car coming toward me. I dimmed my lights. The car coming did not dim his. His lights were very bright.

Q. You did not see a light?

A. I did not see my tail light or anything in front of me to indicate that there was anything in front of me. I was within 25 or 30 feet of the truck before I saw it and couldn't avoid striking it.

Mr. Mulberry's statement: "I have never touched a drop of intoxicating liquor in my life. We were on our way to the picture show." Witnesses: Ruth E. Palmer, R. N., night supervisor of the L. D. S. hospital; H. E. Guyett, M. D., Idaho Falls; Lloyd Sullivan, state traffic officer, and Fred Porter, Bonneville county coroner, Idaho Falls.

NEGLIGENCE IS JURY VERDICT IN COLLISION

Fatal Accident Is Investigated; Deposition Taken at Hospital by Coroner Fred Porter.

J. Riley Hays of Montpelier stood accused Wednesday of criminal negligence by a coroner's jury in the deaths of four persons as the result of a collision between their sedan and his stalled truck Saturday night. The verdict of the jury is as follows:

"That Mrs. Harvey Mulberry, John Mulberry, Mrs. Dorothy Park and Roger Lynn Park came to their deaths at approximately 7:40 p. m., March 26th, 1938 on U. S. highway 91, about four miles south of Idaho Falls, Idaho, as a result of a collision between the automobile driven by Harvey Mulberry and a Ford V-8 truck belonging to J. Riley Hays, parked at said place of accident on highway 91. We find the accident was caused by the following reasons: First, that the highway is not of sufficient width to permit a vehicle to park off the traffic lane; second, that said parked truck had no rear lights; third, that Mr. Mulberry was blinded by the undimmed lights from car driven by J. Riley Hays, which he met at point of accident. We, therefore, find J. Riley Hays guilty of criminal negligence and as a result of his negligence occasioned the death of Mrs. Harvey Mulberry, John Mulberry, Mrs. Dorothy Park and Roger Lynn Park."

Prosecuting Attorney Henry S. Martin said charges, probably manslaughter, would be filed against Hays.

The jury went out Tuesday at 10 p. m. and returned its decision at midnight. Twenty-two witnesses were called, including Mr. and Mrs. Bus Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Beasley, E. H. Egley, Alfred Thomson, Jr., J. Riley Hays, Fred Colson, Phil Swanson, R. J. Andrus, Randall Anderson, Claire Jordin, Deputy Sheriff Harry Merrill, Bert Reddick and B. Y. Ellsworth, State Trooper Lloyd Sullivan, Ruth E. Palmer, R. N., Dr. H. L. Schless of Shelley, Mr. and Mrs. John Wood, R. J. Andrus and Dr. H. E. Guyett. Hays, now being held at Rexburg on a charge of issuing a fictitious check, was brought here Tuesday for the inquest. He was arrested after the accident for Madison county authorities. William S. Holden represented the Mulberry family at the hearing.

Hays, at the inquest, disclaimed ownership of the trucks that were stalled on the highway. He admitted that his lights were not working properly, and when asked about whether or not he examined his trucks and equipment before starting on the trip, he evaded the question. He also admitted having drawn out three quarts of gas from his touring car to put into the truck. It was brought out that the trucks and the load which he was carrying demanded by law that flags be used in the daytime and lights at night.

Funeral Rites for Four Members of One Family Held at Trinity Methodist Church; Burial in Rose Hill Cemetery

Funeral services for four members of the Mulberry family, who were killed in one of the worst and most tragic automobile accidents in the history of Bonneville county, will be held this afternoon (Friday) at Trinity Methodist church, with the Rev. C. M. Donaldson, former pastor of the church and a close friend of the family, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Raymond Rees, present pastor of the church.

The accident occurred last Saturday evening near Cotton siding, four miles south of Idaho Falls, when the family was en route to Idaho Falls to attend a theatre. The dead are Mrs. Ella Mulberry, 56, Idaho Falls, route 4; her son, John, 16; a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Mulberry Park, 23, of Swan Valley, and Roger Lynn Park, two a half year-old son of Mrs. Park. Critically injured was Harvey Mulberry, 60, driver of the car which sliced into the rear of a parked truck heavily loaded with a tractor and two-inch protruding planks.

Two other occupants of the car, Clyde Park, 26, of Swan Valley, husband and father of the two killed, and Fenton Mulberry, 31, escaped serious injury. They were taken to the L. D. S. hospital and treated for shock. Mr. Park and Fenton Mulberry have been released from the hospital, but Mr. Mulberry, Sr., is there in a critical condition, hovering between life and death, it was reported Wednesday.

Officers Investigate

On the night of the accident, investigating officers, State Patrolman Lloyd Sullivan, Sheriff Harry Meppen and Deputies Bryan Ellsworth and Harry Merrill, reported two trucks driven by Alfred Thompson and Ernest Egely, had stalled on the highway out of gas. Thompson caught a ride to Idaho Falls, leaving Egely to flag oncoming cars around the parked trucks resting squarely on the right travel lane because of a short shoulder.

Owner of the trucks, Riley Hays of Montpelier, and Thompson drove back with gasoline, arriving on the scene simultaneously with appearance of the Mulberry car, coming north at about 40 miles an hour, Hays told officers. The crash came as Mulberry, apparently blinded by lights of Hays' car, sheared into the end of the timbers, the force of the collision spinning the car around. Mrs. Park and her infant son died instantly. Mrs. Mulberry and son, John, died en route to the hospital. All succumbed to broken necks, Coroner Fred Porter said. The infant, Roger Lynn Park, had been asleep on his father's lap in the rear seat and had no scratches or bruises. It was not known he had been killed for several minutes after the crash.

Car Demolished

The front end of the Mulberry car was demolished—the front seat telescoped into the back. The entire right side was reduced to blood-spattered wreckage. Three of the two-inch planks on the truck were broken off and splinters found inside the pockets of two of the dead. Decapitation was prevented when Mulberry swerved his car to the left diverting the planks to a diagonal punch through the windshield and out the rear right side. Officers found Mrs. Park lying in the borrow pit, her son clasped to her breast.

From Middlewest

The Mulberry family came to the Idaho Falls section from the middle-west in 1917. Mrs. Mulberry was born January 24th, 1882, in Auburn, Iowa. After their marriage in 1902, she and her husband moved to Butler, S. D., and came to Idaho Falls 15 years later. She was active in civic and Methodist church affairs, where she had a host of friends. Surviving, besides her husband, Harvey Mulberry, are two sons, Don and Fenton Mulberry, and two daughters, Mrs. June Moore and Mrs. Weldon Waite of Roberts, also five grandchildren.

John Harvey Mulberry, Jr., was born October 28, 1921, at Shelley. He attended Stanton school where he won scholastic honors. At the time of his death he was a Shelley high school junior.

Mrs. Dorothy Park was born April 25, 1914, in Pedro, S. D. She came to Idaho Falls with her family in 1917, and since her marriage four years ago had resided in California and Swan Valley, where her husband taught school.

Roger Lynn Park was born September 6, 1935, in Idaho Falls. He is survived by his father, Clyde Park

Harvey Mulberry, 56, and her son, John Mulberry, 16, killed in the accident. A picture of Mrs. Mulberry's husband, who was critically hurt in the highway crash, was also shown. His condition Monday night was reported at the L. D. S. hospital to be fair.

ANDY'S BIG MISTAKE

Andy wished to purchase a birthday gift for Madame Queen. After much consideration he decided on a pair of gloves. He accompanied Mrs. Kingfish to a ladies' furnishing store to make his purchase. He bought the gloves, Mrs. Kingfish purchased bloomers for herself. Somehow the packages were mixed at the store, the package to Madam Queen contained the bloomers and the following letter:

"Dear Honey: This little token is to remind you that I am keeping date with your birthday. I chose them because I think you need some as you are not in the habit of wearing any when you go out of evenings. If it had not been for Brother Kingfish's 'ole battleax,' I would have purchased the ones with the buttons on, but she said they are wearing short ones now. Honey, they are of a delicate color but the lady that sold them to me showed me a pair she had been wearing for three months, and they were hardly soiled at all.

"How I wish I could put them on you the first time, I mean, but no doubt, many other men's hands will come in contact with them before I get a chance to even see them. Anyway, I hope you will think of me every time you put them on. I did not have the exact size but thought I could judge the size better than anyone else. After you put them on once they will slip on easy, when you pull them off blow in them before you put them away as they will be a little damp from wearing. Be sure to keep them on while cleaning for if you don't they will shrink.

"I hope you will accept them in the same spirit they are given. Be sure to wear them to the dance at Aunt Lillian's Friday night as I am just crazy to see them on you. I still love you honey, Andrew H. Brown. P. S. Think of the number of times I will kiss the back of them this coming year. Oh yes, Mrs. Kingfish and Ruby Taylor said the latest is to wear them unbuttoned and hanging down as that gives the wearer a careless look.

Hollywood Grooms Local Girl for Television Role

Hollywood Finds LaRita Corey 'New Personality'

This is a cinderella story which Hollywood itself, the setting of the tale, could not improve upon.

The cinderella is a twenty year old Idaho Falls girl — brown haired, brown eyed La Rita Corey, whose fetching smile has beguiled Hollywood's television titans.

The story goes back three years ago when the winsome and curvesome Miss Corey left Idaho Falls for Hollywood for a job. She was shopping casually at a Los Angeles department store one day when a display director of the large store was attracted immediately to the Idaho Falls girl. He asked her out of one of California's lazy, blue skies if she would like to model women's ready to wear. Miss Corey accepted and worked several months as a model before accepting a job with the California Bank at Hollywood.

Seeks Bank Job

Tiring of the daily model routine, La Rita, who was fond of her secretarial classes at the Idaho Falls high school, applied at the California Bank in Hollywood for a job. They laughed at her, saying they were not accustomed to hiring young, inexperienced girls. The persistent and spunky local girl smiled right back, insisting "on just one chance."

The bank gave her her chance — and were glad they did. Miss Corey started as a filing clerk but was soon climbing the banking ladder to the loan department where she is now one of the youngest top ranking employes in the bank.

Television Beckons

It was while she was plying her secretarial talents at the bank that Hollywood's glittering television portals were opened to her. Hal Roach, jr., executive of Hal Roach motion picture and television studios of Hollywood, is credited with "the find." Miss Corey helped handle the Roach studio account. One bright morning, Mr. Roach walked into the bank, suddenly realized he might be missing a bet, and asked Miss Corey to take a screen test.

She passed the test with flying colors and is now being groomed by the studio for her first television appearance — a role in the forthcoming half hour television film produced by Roach Studio, "Don't Be A Sucker." Producer Roach now pronounces Miss Corey "a good bet."

New Faces

Miss Corey's arrangement with Roach, incidentally, allows her to keep her position with the bank — in between studio calls.

The daughter of Harry Corey and Louise Corey of Idaho Falls, the new television starlet is a graduate of the Idaho Falls high school. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Reed, also of Idaho Falls. A baby sister, Peggy Joy, a student at the Idaho Falls junior high school, rounds out the family.

Laboratory Technician

After graduating from the local high school, Miss Corey took a position with a local dentist, Dr. G. M. Smith, as laboratory technician. After a year in the dental office she left for California. During high school days, she served as an usher at the Paramount theatre here — and also found time to dance at local parties and become a star member of the high school tumbling team. She learned her tap dancing under the tutelage of Don Wilson, local druggist and former dancing instructor.

While in California, the athletic Miss Corey still finds time to ride horseback regularly and to bowl on the bank's girls team. As star of the bowling team, she boasts an average of 210 scattered pins.

And what does mama think of all this:

"It's really wonderful. Sometimes I'm not sure it's true. We plan to visit her this spring, says Mrs. Corey, who is employed at a local women's shop.

The Corey's — from Peggy Joy to Grandparents Reed — breathlessly await the next letter from their Hollywood starlet to receive the next sequence of the thrill packed tale of "Idaho Falls Girl Makes Good in Television."

FROM A bank secretary to a television starlet — that's the success story of Miss La Rita Corey, 20 year old Idaho Falls girl now in Hollywood. Miss Corey is pictured above at her desk in the California bank where she was "discovered" by Hal Roach, jr., television executive. In the bottom picture Jack Pierce, veteran Roach studio make-up man, at right, applies some television "cosmetics" to Miss Corey, center, as an assistant look on.

Mrs. Reed Feted On Birthday

Mrs. D. B. Reed was pleasantly surprised when her daughter, Mrs. Harry Corey, assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Chas. Reed, honored her birthday anniversary with a 1:30 luncheon at the home of Mrs. Corey.

The rooms were decorated with large vases of garden flowers.

Places were arranged at small tables for Mrs. J. C. Jones of Shelley, Mrs. John Wood, Mrs. Bert Wood, Mrs. D. V. Baxter, Mrs. Clair Jordin, Mrs. Agnes Jones, Mrs. W. A. Huss, Mrs. Grace Pickett, Mrs. August Meppen, Mrs. E. G. Rowland, Mrs. John Olson and the honored guest.

A large white birthday cake was served to the guests. The afternoon was spent playing pinochle, and bridge, with Mrs. Rowland high for pinochle, Mrs. Pickett high for bridge and Mrs. Meppen low.

Mrs. Reed was presented with a number of lovely gifts by the guests.

EX-FEMALE MAY BE FATHER

Woman Changed to Man Will Marry

YONKERS, N. Y., Jan. 27. (AP) A young woman who became a man by surgery has been married—to a girlhood chum. The recent marriage was disclosed today by an authority who asked that no names be used.

The bridegroom, a slender, dark-haired young man, was known as "Joan" before a series of operations last spring at Yonkers Professional Hospital and as "John" afterward.

The bride is a New York elevator operator who was a close friend of "Joan" for some years before the operations. "Joan" was an attractive, boyish-figured 135-pounder who lived 23 years as a girl until a chance physical examination showed male characteristics were present.

Told of this, "Joan" said: "I'd rather be a man." A two-week series of operations gave the girl here wish. In male clothing and with close-cropped hair, "John" went to Tennessee for a while, but returned here last fall.

Doctors described him as a handsome young man who in all likelihood could become a father.

Pouring during the afternoon were Mrs. Wayne Reed, Mrs. David P. Reed, Mrs. Kay Prince, Mrs. Alfred Pancheri, Mrs. Walter Pancheri and Mrs. Myron Cook.

Shirley Ann Reed was in charge of the guest book and Lola Jenkins and Clara Petersen presided over the gift table. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Don Cook, Mrs. Elmer Tawzer and Mrs. John Seyfert.

AILING NAMPA TOT GOES TO ST. LOUIS

Doctor, Smylie, Railroad Arrange Mission of Mercy

A Nampa infant with a rare deformity is on his way to St. Louis, Mo., for an unusual operation.

But it took the efforts of Gov. Robert E. Smylie, Union Pacific officials and a determined Nampa pediatrician to arrange the trip.

The baby is Michael Charles Schmid, born Oct. 3 at Mercy Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. John J. Schmid, Lakeshore Drive.

Michael was born with a deformed lower jaw — a condition known as hypo-plasia — making it impossible for him to eat or breathe normally.

Within a few hours after Michael's birth, doctors made an opening in his throat and inserted a silver breathing tube to keep him alive.

And nurses at the hospital fed the baby through a tube placed in his mouth.

IN INCUBATOR

Michael was put in an incubator. And suction equipment was used to keep the breathing tube from plugging and suffocating the infant. At first, nurses watched over him around the clock.

When the baby started to gain, the pediatrician — who prefers not to be named — decided he should be transferred to St. Louis Children's Hospital.

The doctor explained that the retracted jaw condition is so rare that only a few surgeons in the nation have had experience correcting it. Doctors at the St. Louis hospital had such experience.

But getting Michael to St. Louis was a problem.

He had to be kept in an incubator. A suction machine had to be available. And at least two people had to travel with the baby.

RAN INTO SNAGS

The pediatrician called commercial airlines. They couldn't help. Air National Guard and Civil Air Patrol said their facilities weren't suitable. Railroad officials were stumped.

After three weeks of fruitless efforts to find transportation, the doctor called the office of Gov. Smylie for help.

The governor turned to William J. Hynes, special Union Pacific representative at Boise. And Hynes called on his Omaha office for help.

Railroad officials there decided they could move the baby by removing an electrical converter from a late-type coach and installing it in a Pullman car bedroom.

The change was necessary to supply current for the suction machine motor and the incubator.

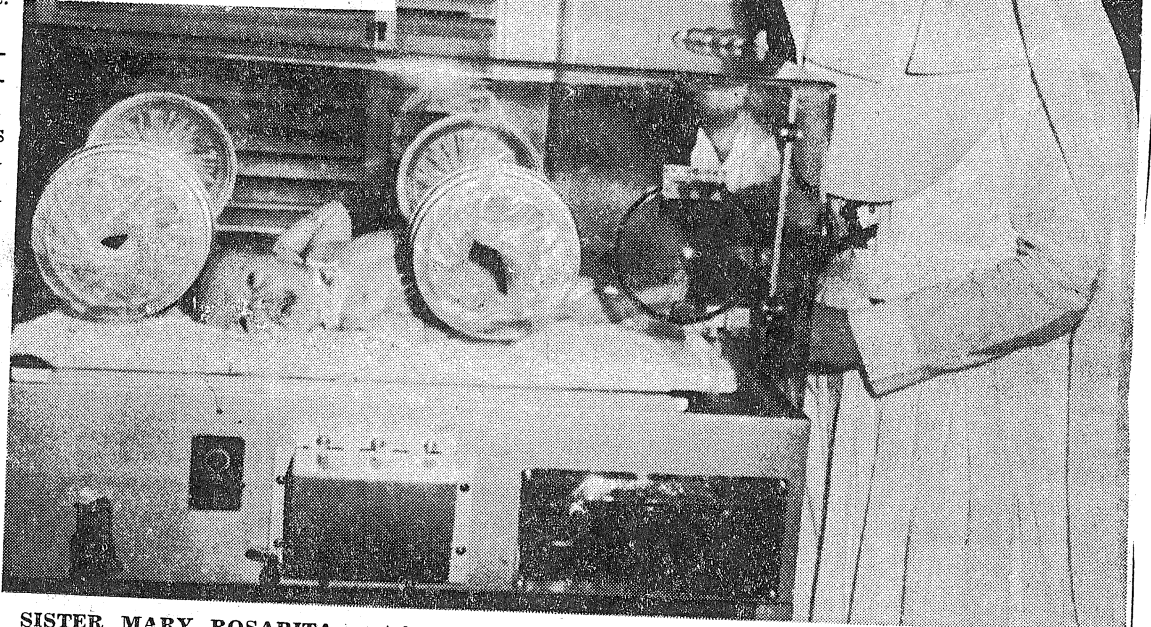

COST CONSIDERABLE

The pediatrician explained that cost to the railroad was considerable — both for the equipment alteration and for taking a coach out of service during one of the busiest seasons.

Early Wednesday afternoon a train including the specially-equipped Pullman car pulled into Nampa. The incubator and suction machine were set up in a bedroom.

And baby Michael, his mother and Nurse Mary Barraysarra were put aboard for the trip to St. Louis. Darrell F. Alvord.

traveling passenger agent for the Union Pacific, was to accompany the party "as far as necessary." And a railroad electrician from Portland was sent along to keep equipment in operation and make transfer at Kansas City.

At Kansas City, the equipment and party must be shifted to a Wabash Railroad car for the last leg of the trip to St. Louis.

CAN'T USE PLANES

Gov. Smylie explained that Air National Guard equipment isn't suitable for such trips. Its planes are stripped down for military use.

"What's more, the Defense Department rules that the National Guard cannot use its equipment except in cases of outright life and death emergencies," he added.

Gov. Smylie said his office was "happy to help — but the railroads deserve the real credit."

The baby's father, who farms 40 acres on Lakeshore Drive, is staying home with the couple's two other children — Thomas Edgar, 7, and David Christian 3.

Said Schmid:

"The Easter Seal organization is helping finance the trip.

"Without their help and that of the governor, the railroads and the doctor, Michael couldn't have been moved.

"And we'll never be able to repay everyone at Mercy Hospital for all they have done to care for our baby."

Mrs. Sweeney Sues Banks

BOISE (AP) — An Idaho Falls woman filed suit in Ada County District Court Tuesday for $100,000 exemplary damages on grounds she signed a loan agreement which had been misrepresented by an officer of the Bank of Eastern Idaho.

Kathleen Sweeney, widow of David M. Sweeney, said in her complaint that as president of the David M. Sweeney Co. she sought a short term $20,000 loan from the bank.

Her attorney, W. S. Holden of Idaho Falls, had informed the bank's agent, E. A. Clawson, that the corporation would cause the $20,000 loan to be guaranteed by the plaintiff or would deposit security.

Wanted Insurance

The complaint alleged, among other things, "that the defendants know the plaintiff neither had or would have, separate property, other than a claim for some insurance."

The complaint also said the Continental State Bank, Boise, had filed $50,000 claim against Sweeney's estate and the Bank of Eastern Idaho, Idaho Falls, had filed a claim for $10,000.

Both banks were named as defendants in the complaint, which said Clawson negotiated the loan with Mrs. Sweeney while Holden was out of town.

The attorney said in the complaint that he had left explicit instructions during his absence that Mrs. Sweeney was to sign the short term loan for $20,000—which was later repaid in 17 days—not other loan agreements which would have her personally guarantee antecedent loans of the estate amounting to about $60,000.

Tells of Transaction

The complaint added that while the attorney, Holden, was attending the American Bar Association, that "Clawson became solicitous about Aug. 21 and asked Mrs. Sweeney to sign the notes for the one loan; that the official said by using two notes it would save the corporation interest; and then handed to the plaintiff a printed form of a loan guarantee agreement, and stated and represented that the same was her guarantee for her loan; that in reliance of such representation, she signed the agreement; that Clawson when he made the representation well knew they were false and fraudulent and well knew that there was included in the loan guarantee agreement and in the printed portion thereof, guarantee of antecedent debts and obligations for which the banks therein named had filed claims in the estate."

The complaint said the Continental State Bank had filed claim of $50,000 against Sweeney's Estate, and the bank of Eastern Idaho had filed a claim for $10,000. The complaint said there was no dispute against these claims as they were for "antecedent debts and obligation" against the Sweeney estate, not against Mrs. Sweeney personally."

Condemn Action

The complaint added that the "action and conduct of the defendants by and through representatives, was malicious, wanton and outrageous and was intended to oppress the plaintiff with full knowledge of her distress in her bereavement."

The complaint said "fraud" was used in obtaining the guarantee and asked that in addition to the exemplary damages the agreement be set aside.

UP Comes to Tot's Rescue With Napkins for Diapers

There were no diapers for baby Michael Schmid. And his suction machine broke down.

But the Nampa infant was happily oblivious to the two big problems as he rode in a specially-equipped railroad car toward St. Louis, Mo., for a delicate operation.

Michael, two-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Schmid, Lakeshore Drive, will undergo surgery at Children's Hospital, St. Louis, for a deformity that prevents him from breathing and eating normally.

The St. Louis hospital is one of the few with experience in handling such cases, a Nampa pediatrician explained.

But back to Michael's two big problems:

A good supply of diapers was sent with Michael from Mercy Hospital to the Union Pacific depot early Wednesday afternoon. But they were in a compartment in the base of a portable incubator loaded on the train for Michael.

It was discovered the base was not needed in the Pullman car bedroom. So it wasn't put aboard the train—and neither were the diapers.

But Union Pacific personnel came to the rescue. They provided dining car napkins lined with soft facial tissues. And at last reports, everyone — especially Michael — was happy.

The second problem arose when the suction machine, borrowed from Mercy Hospital for the trip, broke down. A Union Pacific electrician, sent along on the trip to take care of such matters, kept the machine operating.

And at Pocatello, another machine was borrowed from the Union Pacific physician there.

UP officials said the broken down machine will be repaired so there will be two on the train for Michael.

Railroad officials arranged a surprise for Michael's mother and his special nurse, Mary Barraysarra, Wednesday night. The women were guests of the Union Pacific at

Jack of Hearts--and Conger

Stout Drew 6 of Spades

Des Moines' marine ace, Maj. Jack Conger, 24, is home from the Pacific again and the Japs must be glad to be rid of him for awhile.

This time he blew up a destroyer personally, accounted for five planes on the ground and helped sink 20 or 30 barges. He doesn't know how many trucks he reduced to junk on strafing sorties but there were lots of them.

The first time he was in the Pacific he knocked down 10 Japanese planes and helped blow up a destroyer.

Malaria.

He has been shot down and shot up. He has been pulled out of the Pacific twice by his buddies. He has had malaria nine times. Recently he piloted his Corsair fighter-bomber home when it was hard to see through the blood film over his eyes and when he didn't know whether he would see to fight again.

But he is still looking for combat the same way he did when things on Peleliu quieted down and life became rather dull.

He assigned himself to go over to the Philippines and see what was doing on Leyte and Samar. Flying as a replacement for squadrons assigned there he helped strafe the Japanese and sink the enemy destroyers who tried to land reinforcements at Ormoc bay.

Confusion.

"If I'd happened to get shot down while I was there they would have had an awful time getting it straightened out," Conger said.

"They wouldn't have known what I was doing there or anything about it. It would have caused a lot of confusion."

That wasn't where he got his whole destroyer, however. The destroyer had been shown in photographs of Kopasang harbor, which was only 20 or 30 miles from his base in the Palaus.

It was a question whether he or Maj. Robert F. Stout, Fort Laramie, Wyo., should strike the first blow. They drew for high cards and Jack's was the jack of hearts. Stout's was only the six of spades.

Screen.

The anti-aircraft was "like a screen" when they swept in but Conger dropped his bomb square on the deck.

"It was the biggest fire I've ever seen," Conger said happily Tuesday. Then he sobered quickly.

"But the cowboy Major Stout is dead. He got his just three days before I was sent home. It is hard to lose your friends but he was more than a friend. I suppose that while we were together out there we were closer than brothers."

Maj. Jack Conger, marine ace, brought home some of the "trophies of the hunt" from the Pacific. Among them were a Jap propeller, and a Jap flying helmet, gloves and boots. He is wearing the life jacket that saved his life when he was shot down.

also destroyed one at Yap and one at Rabaul during his most recent stay in the Pacific. None of these planes counted on his score as an ace, however.

Conger, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Conger, 6009 N. Waterbury road, returned Sunday for a visit at his parents' home following which he expects to take about three months' infantry training at Quantico. He may be assigned elsewhere in the United States for a similar period afterward but expects to be returned to combat flying after completion of his work here.

"There was a crash and I turned right up and got out of there," he said. "The glass splinters had cut my eyes and face and had sliced the flesh right off the top of my nose."

"I thought for awhile I couldn't see to fly home. It was like looking through a fog but I made it all right. Then I thought for awhile I was going blind but I didn't."

Didn't Collect.

The Japs owed him something, all right, although they didn't collect it. He had destroyed three planes on Babelthuap airport. He

GREEN ISLAND (Delayed) (U.P.)—Staging a deadly, low-level strafing spree in Rabaul's Simpson harbor recently, two marine Corsair fliers tattooed five large enemy barges with bullet holes, sinking three and destroying a Jap float-type Zero on the water.

CONGER.

Pacing the action was veteran Capt. Jack E. Conger of Des Moines, Ia., who downed 10 enemy planes over Guadalcanal more than a year ago. He accounted for the three sunken barges and the Zero.

His wingman, First Lieut. Ray S. Durham of Lewiston, Idaho, new to combat flying, was credited with damaging two barges and a parked truck.

Circling the harbor while Jap anti-aircraft batteries took potshots at them, the airmen spotted the camouflaged Zero in a sheltered cove. Lieutenant Durham circled overhead while his flying mate strafed, setting the apparently serviceable craft afire.

Both fliers then caught a loaded personnel lighter proceeding along the shoreline, and killed at least 15 Japs. A loaded lumber barge did not burn, but left an oil slick as Lieutenant Durham strafed it.

At another spot along the jungle-crowded shore of the harbor, they hit two more barges, leaving them "severely damaged." Their supply of ammunition

FRIDAY'S PULPIT . . .
Does Faith Bring Smiles?
Rev. Robert Lewis Benefiel
Trinity Methodist Church
Jesus said in John 15:11, "These things have I spoken to you that my joy might be in you and that your joy may be made full." Indeed, the master was such a joyous person that if we dared add a single verse to those of the Gospel writers, it could well be, "Jesus laughed." For he realized that a radiant Christian smile could be the most priceless commodity on the spiritual market.
A person afflicted with blindness in infancy had his sight restored by delicate surgery and grafting, was asked what the most surprising sight was that met his eyes. His immediate reply was: "the grimness and frowns on everyone's faces." A challenge to Christians of any period is to learn how to be serious without being solemn. For a cheery smile often can transform a parade of woes into a pageant of triumph. One's personal Faith should be reflected in joyousness which stems from gratitude as suggested in lines by Dorothy Aaron:
"One day upon a bus I saw a lovely girl with golden hair, She seemed so gay I envied her and wished I were as fair, When suddenly she rose to leave I saw her hobble down the aisle, She had one leg . . . and used a crutch, and passed me with a smile; O God forgive me when I whine, I have two legs, the world is mine, With legs to take me where I'd go, with eyes to see the sunsets glow, with ears to hear what I would know, I should not whine, no, no, no, no, no, no, I'm blest indeed, the world is mine."
DOES YOUR FAITH MAKE YOU SMILE?

Mr. Wilt can remember the cold winters when he lived with his parents in a log cabin on the Iowa prairie.

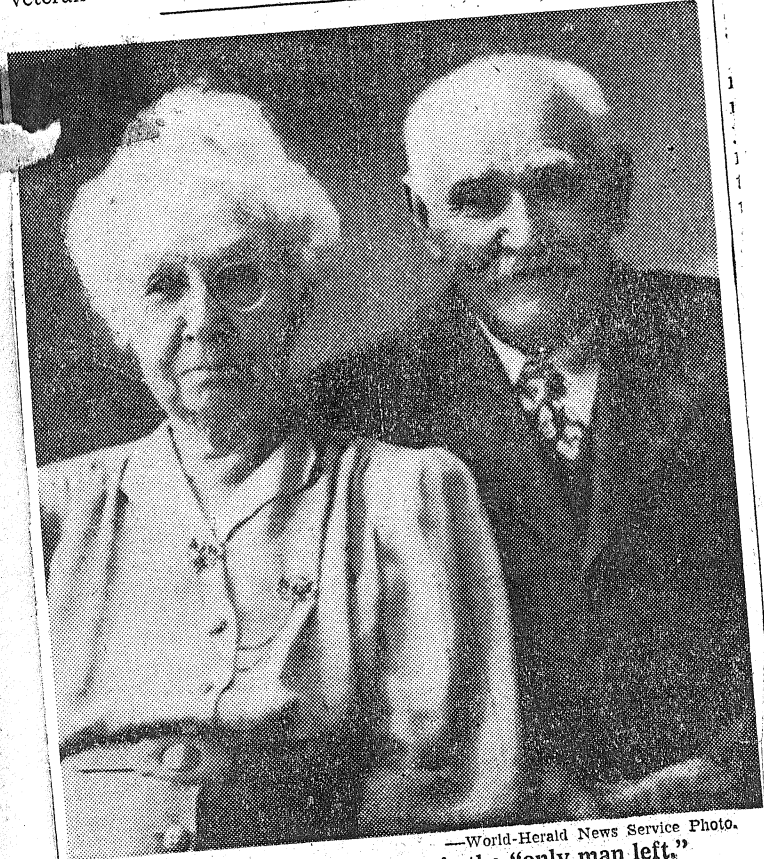

Mr. Wilt drives his own car. He seldom wears glasses.

He has broken many spans of mules and teams of horses.

"If my wife hadn't chosen me from among the eligibles in our neighborhood, she would have been a widow because I am the only man left in our neighborhood group," he said.

Death of An Old Settler

The funeral of Nelson Smith occurred Saturday, October 13th, at the Disciple church. Rev. Sanderson the pastor could not be secured in time for the service and Rev. A. E. Foutch of the Methodist church was asked to take charge of the service. A large number of friends and relatives were present. The choir sang several beautiful hymns. The text was John 14:2, 3: "In my father's house are many mansions".

Nelson Smith was born August 2, 1834, at Prairieville, Clinton County, Indiana. With his parents he came to Johnson county, Iowa, April 1837. While at this place he married Melissa Fry in the year 1850.

Salem, Oregon

Greetings!

The Golden Wedding celebration of Ferne's parents, the Thompsons, at Christmas time was the lovely conclusion to 1958 and the memory will live in our hearts always. Beauty was everywhere! Our gratitude for the blessings of family, home, and wonderful friends knew no bounds.

We began the New Year with a task tremendous--that of having a member of the Staff call on each member and constituent of the church. Appointments were made prior to the calls so that no one would be missed. Nine hundred and fifty-six calls were made in addition to our "regular" calling. It proved to be a most rewarding experience.

Japan holds such a fascination for us that we are thrilled to have David Patch on the College Junior Year Abroad Scholarship from our church studying at International Christian University in Tokyo. The wealth and variety of experience that he is privileged to have; the associations with government, educational, and religious leaders and students; the international aspects of the university; living in such an interesting and contrasting culture--all combine to make the experience of inestimable value to him and, we feel, to us also, as he returns next year to share with us all. Kent and Elsie Buma, dear friends of ours, have opened their hearts and home to David, which greatly increases his opportunity for understanding and interpreting his surroundings. Kent is head of Church World Service for Japan. David, of course, lives on the campus.

With "Africa" the Mission Study for this year, we feel most fortunate to have our own John Kaemmer serving in Angola and to have a small part in his work.

An exceedingly active and successful new organization within the church is our Sixty-Plus Fellowship. Dr. S. Raynor Smith, our Associate Minister, is the leader for this age group in the Oregon Conference and we are greatly indebted to him for his guidance and direction of our local Fellowship.

Brooks's father has made quite a fine recovery from his near-fatal illness of a year ago. He spent three months with us in Salem this summer, but felt that he wanted to be at home in Miami for the winter. He gained 10 lbs. while here, however, and we feel that he gained in other ways more difficult to measure. He continues to find adjusting to life without Mother Moore very difficult indeed.

Many people, who are greatly missed, have moved from Salem during the past year. Among those who are away for a year or longer, but whose return is eagerly anticipated are: Lucille and Charles Wardle, the Tom Goldens and Lee, Phyllis and Richard Gillis, and the Willis Gates family. Our prayers and love are extended especially to Pin Seng Tschang as he pursues his studies on the East coast. The loss of Daisy, his beautiful young wife, en route East, in a tragic car accident was a blow to our church and community. There has been an unusually large number who have left the Church Visible to join the Church Triumphant, leaving for us a "lonely place against the sky".

Some wonderful additions to our Church Staff have been made this year. We'll mention only two. Dr. Edgar Smith, Head of the Music Department of Oregon College of Education at Monmouth, is our outstanding director of the Sanctuary and Wesley Choirs. One thousand crowded into the church to hear "The Messiah" presentation by these choirs on December 13. The congregation seemed spellbound. May Hanning Dudley, an Oberlin Conservatory graduate having had a fine background of experience, is our director for Cherub, Junior, and Youth Choirs and is presenting them in Christmas Vespers on December 20.

Please remember that we always cherish messages and visits from our friends. May God's choice blessings ever be yours,

Ferne and Brooks.

Salem, Oregon
January, 1960

Dear friends of Ferne and Brooks:

On Monday, December 21st, while driving from Salem to Buhl, Idaho, for Christmas, Ferne and Brooks were both killed instantly in an automobile accident when their own car hit ice and skidded out of control.

You can well imagine our great sorrow and loss. Only our faith in God's great love and the prayers of our friends have enabled us to go through these most difficult days.

Their Christmas letter was in the hands of the printer and the envelopes were all addressed. Knowing how much their letter meant to so many of you, it was decided to go ahead and send their Christmas letter and greetings to you their friends along with a copy of the bulletin from their memorial service held here in the Church they loved so much.

The Family of Ferne and Brooks.

Former Minister Wife Killed

Word of the death of a former Idaho Falls minister and his wife in a traffic accident has been received here. Killed instantly Monday was Dr. Brooks Moore, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church here in 1945-46. His wife, Fern, died 10 minutes later.

The accident occurred as the Moores were driving from Salem, Ore., where he is pastor of the First Methodist Church, to Buhl to spend the Christmas holidays with relatives.

The accident occurred about 70 miles east of Bend, Ore., in freezing fog that coated the roads. The car skidded onto the right shoulder of the road, swerved to the left and rolled over several times. Both were thrown from the car.

The Rev. Robert Becker, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church at Bend, who was driving home from Burns, saw the accident.

Packages containing Christmas gifts the Moores had taken along were strewn around the accident scene.

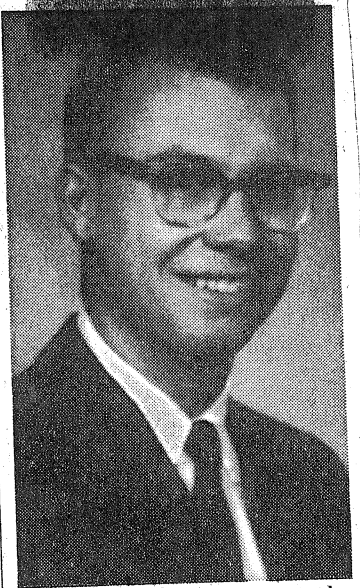

Witnesses said a small golden colored pet spaniel leaped from the wreckage and bounded away into the brush. Police and others were unable to find it.

Two years ago the Rev. Dr. Moore and his wife took a 10-week trip around the world. It was a gift of appreciation from members of his congregation.

Services will be Thursday at the First Methodist Church in Salem with burial services Saturday. Friends here were advised.

A THRENODY ON OLD AGE

How did I know when my youth is spent?

When my git-up and go has gone and went.
But in spite of it all I am able to grin,
When I think where my git-up and I have often been.
Old Age is Golden, I have heard it said,
But sometime I wonder as I get into bed.

With my ears in a drawer, my teeth in a cup,
My eyes on a table until I wake up.

'Ere sleep dims my eyes, I say to myself,

Is there anything else I should lay on the shelf?
And I'm happy to say as I close my door,

My friends are the same, perhaps even more.
When I was young my slippers were red.

I could kick up my heels right over my head.
As I grew older my slippers were blue,

But still I could dance the whole night through.
Now I am old my slippers are black,

I walk to the store and puff my way back.
The reason I know my youth is spent,

My git-up and go has gone and went.
But I really don't mind when I think with a grin,

Of all the grand places my git-up has been.
Since I have retired from life's competition,

I busy myself with complete repetition.
I get up each morning, dust off my wits,

Pick up the paper and read the obits.

If my name is missing, I know I'm not dead,

So I eat a good breakfast and go back to bed.

Hold Open House

LENOX—Mr. and Mrs. William O. Reed celebrated their Golden Wedding, Wednesday, by keeping Open House at their home in Lenox. Guests signed a book as they entered, and refreshments were served from a table centered by a large white tiered cake, trimmed with golden roses and topped by miniature bride and groom, flanked by golden candles. Daughters and daughters-in-law served lunch. Erma E. Belding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Belding and Wm. O. Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Reed were married Jan. 2, 1907 at the home of her parents, south of Lenox. They went to housekeeping on a farm north of Lenox, where they lived two years, moving then to Texas on "The Star Ranch" where they stayed a year. They moved six miles away, where a daughter, Eva was born. Next came the long move back to Iowa, where they spent a year on the home place before moving two miles west of Lenox where they lived for eight years. During that time, three more children were born, Orville, Charles and Iola. In the next few years they lived on several farms, and again moved to Texas a couple of years, where Lewis Earl was born. When they returned to Iowa they settled on the farm east of Lenox where they spent the next 31 years. Here Loretta, Nina, and Billie were born. In 1956 they sold the place to their son, Orville, and moved to town. Their children are all married and the Reeds have 24 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Those present for the anniversary who attended the wedding 50 years ago were Mrs. Minnie Belding, the bride's mother, and Mrs. Katie Beggs, of Clearfield. Many gifts and cards and messages were received in honor of the Golden Wedding.

CELEBRATED EIGHTIETH
FRIDAY, JANUARY 15TH

One of Wyoming's real pioneers celebrated his eightieth birthday at his home here last Friday. On that day Ed Smith marked the passing of eighty years. A good many of his friends came to their home to help him commemorate the day. Each brought a covered dish so that a very nice dinner was served. The evening was spent in reminiscing of the early days in Wyoming. Mr. and Mrs. Smith came to Wyoming in 1886, before it was made a state. They made the trip overland in a covered wagon from Lenox, Iowa, and drove their cattle before them. Their two children were then quite small, Mrs. D. J. Smythe being just a little girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith took up a homestead in Boxelder Park and built up quite a ranch home there. The place where they homesteaded is now known as the Fred Grant ranch and was built up from the ground by Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Those who came to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Smith on his birthday were: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Slaughter, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sumner, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lam, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Kimball, and the home folks, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Smythe and also three faculty members who make their home at the Smythe's. These three, Miss Westbrook, Miss Stevens and M. D. Stigall, presented Mr. Smith with a box of cigars with a very appropriate toast.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are splendid examples of what thrift, integrity and right living can do in a life time. The whole community joins The Independent in wishing for Mr. Smith many more pleasant birthdays.

59th Wedding Anniversary Friday

Friday, February 10 will be the fifty-ninth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Smith, who have been residents of Wyoming since the summer of 1886 when they came west from Iowa in a covered wagon and homesteaded in Boxelder Park.

Those were real pioneer days; days of hardship and privation that the generation of today fail to the uttermost in understanding. With the bitter cold this week when the thermometer registers zero and below, it is difficult to understand how Mr. and Mrs. Smith could spend an entire winter in a tent, yet such is the case, as just one illustration of what the hardy pioneers of those days went through as empire builders that we of today may the modern conveniences we now enjoy.

MR. AND MRS. EDWIN SMITH

The homestead finally developed in a fine ranch and the Smiths prospered and enjoyed life as their three children came to bless their home. One of the children, Mrs. D. J. Smythe, lives in Glenrock, Jay, the only son, died in 1918. Another daughter, Mrs. Edna Vaughn, lives in Cheyenne.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have seven grand children; Hugh Smythe of Chula Vista, California; Orville Smythe of Denver; Laurence Smith of Lewiston, Montana; Mrs. May Niely of Los Angeles, California; Mrs. Pete Wall of Ponca City, Oklahoma; Emid Ell Vaughn and Mariam Vaughn. There are five great grand children.

Twenty-five years ago Mr. and Mrs. Smith sold their ranch property to the late Charles Grant and came to Glenrock to make their home, Mr. Smith entering the automobile and garage business where Lehner and Lewis now have their Ford garage.

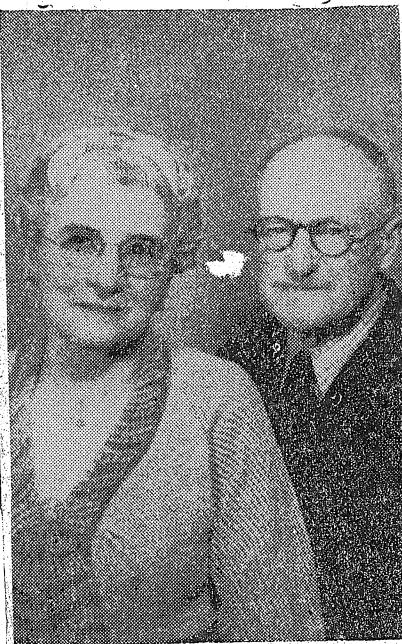

Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith were born in Iowa and made the state their home until coming to Wyoming. Before her marriage Mrs. Smith's name was Eleanor Huss, a prominent family name in Johnson County, Iowa.

Work Hard But Have Fun—That's Recipe Of Jamboree Honoree

You will see her every Tuesday night at a local bowling alley watching her grandsons bowl.

In the summer, she likes to fish and she used up "nearly two ticket books" watching the Idaho Falls Angels baseball team perform last summer.

This is vivacity at 91...the life and times of Mrs. Stella Reed of Idaho Falls, the 1966 honoree of the Bonneville County Sportsmen's Association annual jamboree.

As Jamboree honoree, Mrs. Reed will preside over the Jamboree's annual Old Timer's party the afternoon of Feb. 26. The Jamboree opens Feb. 25.

"I guess I'll never grow up if I live to be 200," Mrs. Reed laughed as a Post-Register reporter asked her about her interests.

The Busy Days

"Outside of my husband and my family, always my No. 1 interest, I have always loved sports all my life. Even when we were raising a family, we used to come home from church on a Sunday and I would pack a lunch and away we would go fishing. Those were the days, the busy days of raising your family, that I was the happiest I believe," she commented.

A short, cheerful, distinguished-looking woman, Mrs. Reed's look and demeanor belie her 91 years.

She resides alone — "I love to visit my family and grandchildren, but I like something independent I can come home to — but her grandchildren are constantly picking her up to take her to a baseball game, a bowling alley...or even rabbit hunting.

An alert woman who expresses herself calmly and incisively, she nevertheless laments that "I can't remember as specifically as I once did all the old times I like to recall."

Those Yesteryears

Those yesteryears were vigorous, even for a strong woman who once weighed 168, and productive...and tinged at times with the pain of loss and disappointment.

Born in Ringgold County, Iowa, in 1875, her father, Nelson Smith, was an Iowa farmer. He was farming his own farm in Iowa, when he and some of his neighbors decided to take a look at some new land being offered in Idaho in a real estate promotion. A special excursion of Iowa farmers was formed and in 1910 they boarded the railroad train and came to Idaho Falls. The late Mr. D. B. Reed liked the look of the land and bought it. The old country-road which bordered the place, was later to become the Butte Highway, and the crossroads itself to become the familiar Reed's Corner. The Butte Highway itself was to ascend as a main U.S. highway, only to become finally just another farm to market road.

Returns To Idaho

When Mr. Reed returned to Iowa, however, to move his entire family, his father died suddenly. It took four years to get his mother properly settled... and then the D. B. Reeds — including Mrs. Stella Reed, a daughter, Pearl, and son, Charles — moved to Idaho. A 17-year old daughter had died in Iowa previously.

"I remember arriving atocatello and then going north to Idaho Falls. Those grim rocks and sagebrush frightened me frankly. My heart sank. But I never said anything. I made up my mind that if this is what he wanted, I was with him," she recalled.

Mrs. Reed, despite the constant protestations of her husband, did heavy farm work. She would drive mowing machines and plow teams during the day and do her washing and cooking at night during the peak farm work days.

Time For Fun

But there was a lilt to Mrs. Reed's character. She always found time to leaven the work load with some fun...fishing, picnicking, games.

"I always worked in the fields. They were good days. He was so good to me. We were always together. He would never go and me stay home. We had our trials, too. Our oldest daughter died in Iowa when 17 years old. But God never puts the burden on us too heavy to bear if we ask him, in faith, to help us," she says with a clarity of conviction.

Mr. Reed played the violin and she played the organ at square dances...including some at the New Sweden Hall.

"I must confess I don't care much for those twisty dances the youth do today."

61st Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Reed celebrated their 61st wedding anniversary here before he died 11 years ago. They were married Oct. 2, 1895 in Iowa.

Of pioneer stock, — her grandfather helped pioneer the mid-west — Mrs. Reed was only slightly dismayed when she viewed the 160 acres west of Idaho Falls for the first time... half sagebrush and half farm. They had bought it from an original homesteader...and they developed it with characteristic resolution over the years... a resolution with the perspective of the wholeness of life. Mrs. Reed particularly could put her work away, work which she found companionable, and tap the fun of leisure.

She has been active in the Idaho Falls Trinity Methodist Church over the years, and held offices in the Women's Society of Christian Service.

"They called it Ladies Aid in those days," she said.

She also taught Sunday school at one time. She and her husband were members of the New Sweden Grange for many years, the original progenitors of that Grange.

But she was not a joiner. She spent most of her time with her family and friends.

Her Family

Her immediate family includes a daughter, Mrs. Louise Corey of Colorado Springs and son, Charles S. Reed of Idaho Falls. She has nine living grandchildren, 25 great grandchildren and two great great grandchildren. Larry, David and Roy Reed, all grandsons, started Reed's Dairy at the original farm in 1955. David and Wayne Reed, also grandsons, and Mrs. Henry Peterson, another granddaughter, all reside in Idaho Falls.

Mrs. Reed actually raised two families. When her daughter, Mrs. Pearl Fullerton, died, her young family "moved in with us and were like my very own."

The first woman to be selected as honoree for the Sportsmen's Jamboree, the old timer's party will be graced by a woman who spans not only a near-century of time...but time humbly, fruitfully spent. And she just might dance at the Old Timer's ball, too...but not the twisty ones.

Horace Gesas Dies In City

Horace Gesas, well known Idaho Falls realtor, died suddenly at a local hospital Tuesday afternoon. He underwent surgery two weeks ago.

Mr. Gesas had been identified with the Idaho Falls business community for most of his life and comes from a pioneer merchant family of Idaho Falls.

Mr. Gesas was born in Salt Lake City in 1904 but his family was residing in Idaho Falls at the time. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Barney Gesas of Idaho Falls. Barney Gesas pioneered the former Fair Department Store in Idaho Falls, one of the prominent merchandising centers of the valley at that time. Raised in Idaho Falls, Mr. Gesas graduated from the Idaho Falls High School where he was a star quarterback on the football team. He later was graduated from the University of Virginia.

He returned from college to enter business with his father in the Fair Store for several years. He later opened his own ready-to-wear store which he operated in Idaho Falls for several years. About 10 years ago, he became associated with a mortgage insurance and real estate firm in Idaho Falls and served as the local manager. He opened his own real estate office in Idaho Falls three years ago.

Survivors include his widow and two children, Barney, a student at Idaho Falls High School, and Janet, who is working in Wiesbaden, Germany for the U.S. Air Force.

Survivors also include a brother, Ralph, of Idaho Falls and three sisters, Mrs. Albert Islen and Mrs. David Stark, who reside in New York, and Mrs. Gwendolyn Leaverton of California.

Mr. Gesas is a past president of the Idaho Falls Rotary Club and has been active in the past as committee leader for the Idaho Falls Chamber of Commerce. He was also identified with the leadership of the Idaho Falls Retail Merchants Association for a period.

Funeral services will be announced later.

Rites Held for Martin Smith

GLENROCK — (Special) — Funeral services were held Wednesday from the Masonic Temple for Martin Smith, 94-year-old pioneer of the Glenrock community. The services were conducted by John J. McIntyre of Casper.

Allen Brubaker, Victor Johnston and Dick Brubaker sang "City Four Square" and "Rock of Ages" and were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. N. O. Mikkelsen.

Pallbearers were six grandsons of Mr. Smith—Harry, Gordon and Howard Lam and Lee, Robert and Dick Moffett. Interment was made in the family plot in the Glenrock cemetery under the direction of Kennaugh and Stark. Committal services were conducted by the Glenrock Lodge No. 22, AF&AM, of which Mr. Smith had been an active member for 49 years and a past master.

Martin Smith was born in Johnson County, Ia., Dec. 29, 1860. He was united in marriage to Mildred Linninger on Dec. 25, 1883 and to this union were born six children of whom one son died in infancy and two other sons, Clifford and Lewis, died in later years.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith and small son, Cliff, came to Wyoming in 1885 and homesteaded in Boxelder Park, on what is now the John Grant ranch, later operating a saw mill in the park. In 1900 the family moved to Glenrock where Mr. Smith and sons operated a livery company.

Mr. Smith built the M. A. Lehner house from native lumber from the saw mill and in 1917 the Glenrock garage was built and owned and operated by Mr. Smith and his sons and his brother, Ed. Mr. Smith served as night marshal and custodian of the high school for several years. He was also a member of the consistory at Cheyenne of the 32nd degree.

He always led an active life and was very interested in all sports, especially base or soft ball and also the Little Leaguers. It was only last summer that he sat all day watching the Little League tournament. In 1932 on Christmas Day, he and Mrs. Smith celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at a family dinner. Mrs. Smith died in April, 1940.

He is survived by a son, N. C. Smith of Casper; two daughters, Mrs. James Lam of Glenrock and Mrs. Minnie Moffett of Casper, with whom Mr. Smith made his home; a 95-year-old brother, Charles of Savage, Mont.; two sisters, Mrs. Nora Huss, 92, of Nampa, Ida., and Mrs. Stella Reed, 89 of Idaho Falls, Ida.; 14 living grandchildren and 40 great-grandchildren.

INDIAN'S TWENTY-THIRD PASIM

THE GREAT FATHER ABOVE A SHEPHERD CHIEF IS. IMA HIS AND WITH HIM I WANT NOT. HE THROWS OUT TO ME A ROPE AND THE NAME OF THE ROPE IS LOVE AND HE DRAWS ME TO WHERE THE GRASS IS GREEN AND THE WATER NOT DANGEROUS, AND I EAT AND LIE DOWN AND AM SATISFIED. SOMETIMES MY HEART IS VERY WEAK AND FALLS DOWN BUT HE LIFTS ME UP AGAIN AND DRAWS ME INTO A GOOD ROAD. HIS NAME IS WONDERFUL.

SOMETIMES, IT MAY BE VERY SOON, IT MAY BE A LONG, LONG TIME, HE WILL DRAW ME INTO A VALLEY. IT IS DARK THERE BUT I'LL BE AFRAID NOT, FOR IT IS IN BETWEEN THOSE MOUNTAINS THAT THE SHEPHERD CHIEF WILL MEET ME AND THE HUNGER THAT I HAVE IN MY HEART ALL THROUGH THIS LIFE WILL BE SATISFIED.

SOMETIMES HE MAKES THE LOVE ROPE INTO A WHIP, BUT AFTERWARDS HE GIVES ME A STAFF TO LEAN UPON. HE SPREADS A TABLE BEFORE ME WITH ALL KINDS OF FOODS. HE PUTS HIS HAND UPON MY HEAD AND ALL THE "TERROR" IS GONE. MY CUP HE FILLS TILL IT RUNS OVER. WHAT I TELL IS TRUE. I LIE NOT. THESE ROADS THAT ARE "AWAY AHEAD" WILL STAY WITH ME THROUGH THIS LIFE AND AFTER: AND AFTERWARDS I WILL GO TO LIVE IN THE BIG TEPEE AND SIT DOWN WITH THE SHEPHERD CHIEF FOREVER.

I thought it was so pretty and your friends might enjoy it too.

Love Peg.
